

THE DIXON GALLERY AND GARDENS

4339 Park Ave

Memphis, TN 38117

Since 1976, the Dixon Gallery and Gardens has been one of Memphis' premier art institutions and display gardens. In 1958 Hugo and Margaret Oates Dixon established the Hugo Dixon Foundation to create a lasting endowment to preserve their home, gardens and collections for the enjoyment and benefit of the community. Today their legacy continues as the Dixon Gallery and Gardens presents exhibitions and educational programs to young and old alike on both art and horticulture.

The Dixon Gardens offers many opportunities for volunteers from the newly initiated gardener to the experienced. Our volunteers help maintain the gardens on a year round basis doing everything from weeding to pruning and planting. Volunteers are also the backbone of the Wildflower Sale.
